

There are four pillars of air bending that Aang has learned thus far.
Now, we must bend the pillars to uncover the final key.

One pillar is replaced with its subtype that is related to heat.

The first two letters of another pillar are replaced to form a citrus fruit.

One pillar loses an ACE, making it a class that kids in school might take.

One zesty pillar is replaced with its ‘cutie’ smaller version.

The fire nation attacked—only the first letter of two pillars remain. Now, three pillars are combined to make non-human companions, like Appa and Momo.

With a pair of pillars remaining, we finally have an answer, but it doesn’t make much sense... Your mind feels scrambled. Maybe a look at these past episodes can help.
